Profil

I am an interesting, detailed and open-minded frontend developer to modern web technologies. I have a strong foundation for HTML, CSS and JavaScript, and I work on practical projects with React.js. I want to develop myself in technical and creative fields and gain experience in the international team. I love working with new technologies, solving the problem and creating functional interfaces

- Open to working with a team
- Responsible and able to deliver work on time
- Quickly adapt to new technologies
